ON THE FARM.
The farmer who says hens are a nuisance generally speaks the truth as far as his individual experience goes. This method, or lack of method, makes them a veritable nuisance.
If your poultry are just mongrels, purchase a trio of pure-breds and set their eggs next spring, and thus gradually work into pure-bred fowls. Blood tells in poultry as much as it does in horses, cattle or pigs.
Frequent crop rotation is the only practical remedy for the well-known strawberry crown borer. The infested field should be burned over in the fall and the next year planted to some other crop, upon which the pest can not thrive.
Thistles are spread from the seed, and if the plant is not allowed to go to seed there will be no danger of this pest spreading over the pasture. The best time to cut the weed is just before there is any possibility of the seed maturing.

ONE'S IDEA OF REST.
Hunt Your Individual Thought and Practice It.
Rest, and when you rest—rest. Dive down into your brain and turn all the corners inside out and find what your own personal idea of relaxation is and then follow it.
Be not one of those unfortunate who think that rest consists of sitting still, whether you want to or no, and who do not realize that out of a hundred people sixty-eight different conceptions of repose will be found.
Have you ever heard of the stage driver and his vacation? Well, he has driven a stage in the Cumberland mountains for something like twenty years and one day took the notion that he needed a rest.
What do you suppose he did? Went to town and had a ripping good time, you say.
Well, he did not.
To use his own quaint words, "I just come every day and sit beside the other fellow on the box and watch him do my work."
For curiosity a census of the rest question was taken. Here are a few of the results: One is "starch." A girl said she always felt perfectly rested and happy when she was dressed in an immaculate waist, stiffly starched petticoats and irreproachable shoes. In direct contrast to this is the whim of another girl that only in old clothes could she rest, "for then," she said, "I can eat sticky candy and juicy oranges with no ill effects."
From a man came this idea: "I like to stand on the edge of a crowd where I do not know any one and watch the people." From another came a similar one—to sit on the banks of a noisy stream. Sleep was, of course, more thought of than anything else. Absolute darkness came in for its share of adherence—perfect harmony, whether in the beating of a drum, the rhythmic motion of a train or simply music. Undisturbed dreaming came as a surprise from an exceedingly practical girl, and to sit in a cemetery was the idea of a particularly cheerful miss.
One girl insisted quite as while and then with a laugh said, "Do you know, I think if I could run in the grass barefooted I should be perfectly contented."
To sleep on a freshly filled straw tick was another choice, and a Pittsburgher said, "I always thought I could get splendidly rested if I could just sleep on a Mount Washington car while it was going through the tunnel."
These are a few, but you can hunt your own individual thought out of its own particular cranny and practice it. It will do you a world of good.

THE WEALTH OF THE UNITED STATES
The wealth of the United States equals the combined valuation of Italy, Spain, Portugal, India, South America, Turkey, Egypt, Sweden, Norway, Canada, Australia, Denmark and South Africa. It exceeds the wealth of Germany and Russia combined. It is equal to the wealth of Great Britain, Canada and Australia. Agriculture has been the main factor in this marvelous increase of national wealth.

ONE OF THE FARMER'S PROBLEMS
One of the farmer's problems is how to look after the many pests which he has need of in keeping up fences, etc. While experiences differ, it is safe to say that white cedar poles last longer than any other kind. White oak posts are also good. It is said that posts put into the ground tops downward will outlast those that are set tops upward. This is due, so it is surmised, to the fact that they absorb water from the earth when they are set in the natural position, but do not absorb it when they are reversed.

Tomatoes are imported in increasing quantities each year from Italy.
The quality of these tomatoes is stated to be good and the prices low. Large quantities of canned tomatoes are also shipped each season from Italy to the east coast ports of the United States, and the American Shippers to Italy are frequently packed before they are fully ripe, and that this practice renders them undesirable for use. The Italian tomatoes are carefully selected, and are only packed after they have attained a ripe and rich color.

THE POSSIBILITIES OF A SMALL FARM
Intensive cultivation are strikingly shown in the following record of production from eleven acres, located near Reading, Pa.: Three thousand six hundred and fifteen bushels of radishes, 30 bushels of white China radishes, 775 bushels of onions, 1800 boxes of strawberries, 675 bunches and 20 bushels of beets, 500 quarts of lima beans, 12 bushels of corn, 75 bushels of peas, 63 bushels of string beans, 125 bushels of potatoes, 440 bushels of tomatoes, 1000 heads of lettuce, 5000 heads of cabbage, 600 dozen ears of corn, 125 bushels of eggplant, 100,000 pickles, 40 bushels of turnips, 125 bushels of carrots, 35 bushels of parsnips, 1000 stalks of horseradish, 2000 stalks of celery, 20,000 stalks of celery, 25 bushels of artichokes and 8 bushels of popcorn.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN
The column under this title will be given to the people for a free discussion of any and all subjects, the management of the paper, distinctly including all responsibility for the opinions here expressed.

South Weymouth, July 30, 1908.
Dear Gazette:
As a side-light to the illuminating benevolence of the newly prepared ball field on Union Street is the fact of the neighbors that the South Weymouth boys permitted to enjoy it will not behave themselves.
I hope that fear is not well grounded, for the acts of vandalism or call it plain stealing, suffered by Mr. H. H. Reed during the long time that he furnished a playground have been relatively small as compared with everything else.
But if some of the camp-followers of those who really appreciate a fairly good ball field elect to visit adjacent gardens and steal the seed, then the self-respecting should bestow a word of caution or something sterner; and if that does not suffice I only ask for the authority of the Improvement Association to represent it in prosecuting any malicious offender.

GREENLAND'S ICE CAP.
The largest mass of ice in the world fills up nearly the whole of the interior of Greenland. It is one and a half miles thick. This ice has accumulated since before the dawn of history. It is believed to form a block 600,000 square miles in area. According to these statistics, this lump of ice is larger in volume than the whole body of water in the Mediterranean.

UNNECESSARILY SCARED
A young man had been calling now and then on a young lady when one night, as he sat in the parlor waiting for her to come down, her mother entered the room instead and asked him in a very grave, stern way what his intentions were.
He turned very red and was about to stammer some incoherent reply when suddenly the young lady called down from the head of the stairs.

HALF PRICE
A well known actor was taking dinner at a fashionable Chicago hotel during the recent Republican convention, when a young man came in and sat down at the same table. He apparently recognized the actor, for after gazing at him intently for a couple of minutes he pulled a $2 bill ostentatiously from a large roll, and, showing it across the table, remarked: "I always feel as if I had to pay to see a famous man, don't you know?"
The "famous man" calmly tore the $2 bill in half and returned one section to the young man.
"Children half price," he observed, composedly.—New York Times
DIAMOND CUT DIAMOND
Once upon a time there were in Paris two papers, the Razon and the Scorpion, which were always going for each other with great ferocity. Every week people bought the Razon to read how it cut at the Scorpion and the Scorpion to learn how it stung the Razon.
A certain philanthropist felt pained to see such violence, so he invited the two editors to dine in the hope that over good fare he could make peace between them. At the appointed time one lean, melancholy man presented himself and was ushered in. After an interval, as no other guest approached, the host demanded: "May I ask, who is the editor of the Razon or Scorpion?"
"Both," said the sad-eyed man.

THE WRONG DOOR.
They were newly married, and on a honeymoon trip. They put up at a skyscraper hotel. The bridegroom felt disposed, and the bride said she would slip out and do a little shopping. In due time she returned and tripped blithely up to her room, a little vexed by the number of doors that looked alike. But she was sure of her own and tapped gently on the panel.
"I'm back, honey, let me in," she whispered.
"Honey, honey, let me in!" she called again, rapping louder. Still no answer.
"Honey, honey, let me in!" she called again, rapping louder. Still no answer.
There was a silence and still no answer. After several seconds a man's voice, cold and full of dignity, came from the other side of the door.
"Madam, this is not a beehive; it's a bathroom."—Mountain Pine

NATURE AND A WOMAN'S WORK
Nature and a woman's work combined have produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known.
In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers they relied upon the roots and herbs of the field to cure disease and mitigate suffering. The Indians on our Western Plains to-day can produce roots and herbs for every ailment, and cure diseases that baffle the most skilled physicians who have spent years in the study of drugs.
From the roots and herbs of the field Lydia E. Pinkham more than thirty years ago gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills, more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

FRIDAY, AUG. 7, 1908

Many of the visiting Pythian sisters were much better looking than they were pictured in Boston papers.

Our advice to chauffeurs is this—If you must lose your head, lose it in an accident rather than before.

The new code of foot ball rules are said
to have but few changes in them, consequently we may look for the usual amount of broken bones this fall.

What is an "ordinary bet"? What is gambling? According to Justice Gayer of the Supreme Court of New York an "ordinary bet" is not gambling as he considers the anti-gambling laws enacted at the last Legislature.

There are some very nice things being said of the three aspirants for the Republican nomination as Lieutenant Governor, but the best we have seen thus far is the following from the Springfield Union: "It can be truthfully said that in many respects Prothingham is the counterpart of Wolcott."

The Geo. E. Keith Co. Factory.

The new enterprise is being pushed as rapidly as possible. Engineers and surveyors have mapped out some work this week and a carload of cement for primary work in the foundation has been ordered.

Wharf street is called upon for more than 200 years has been a private way to the water front will be made a public road
and, by the way, speaking of water front
it is talked of pushing the matter of Back River development. Many many years ago government spent a small sum in improvements at its mouth.

In Elphinstone's time his attention was called to the condition of the river, and under Gen. Mansfield a survey was made and he recommended $49,000 for completing the work. Mr. Elphinstone said that an appropriation of $12,000 which was expended at and below the Brady works. Our present enterprising Congressman, Hon. John W. Weeks, took up the work and got $10,000 for it two years ago and now to facilitate business and see the work completed we ought to have the balance and have the river as good as it was when a regular packet line ran from the wharf to Boston and other places.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Delphi Council, Uniform Rank and Sisters of the Order at Boston.

This has been a busy week for the various organizations working in the name of Knights of Pythias, and Weymouth has figured well in the several events which have taken place in Boston.

On Tuesday the Uniform Rank under command of Capt. Ashworth, with Hon. B.
Hyland 1st Lieut., and Lawrence W.
Spaulding 2d Lieut., made a good appearance in the parade.

Wednesday, however, was the real parade day as it was on a much more elaborate scale. Delphi Lodge with about 75 members was in the third division of which R. B. Worster was an aid to the chief marshal, Charles T.
Bailey was marshal of the lodge and he had as assistant Capt. Ashworth of the Uniform Rank. The Lodge wore dark trousers, white shirts, white ties, white feather hats, and marched to the music of the Columbian Fife and Drum corps
of South Weymouth, receiving a good share of the applause of those who thronged
the sidewalks, or looked down from windows and the stands built along the line
of march.

The following charter members were relieved from the long march by being given a carriage: Darius Smith, Heuben Tirrell, P. H. Linton, A. A. Linton and E.
Monroe Thayer. J. T. Paine and Elbridge Richards of the charter members were unable to attend.

George Horne, charter commander, and W. E. Pray, past chancellor, were in the receiving line of the Supreme lodge
at a reception held in Grand hall, Mechanics building.

School Committee.

The regular meeting of the school committee was held Tuesday evening. All the members were present. The bids for furnishing coal for the schools were opened. There were but two bidders.

The contract was awarded to the lowest bidder, A. J. Richards & Son, though we have been slow in recognizing it as such.
I agree with Mr. Barrett in regard to the desirability of having good roads, as
a most important factor in this development. The time will probably come when
we shall have a boulevard along this
water front, but in the meantime, by no
means are all of the paths which are used
for travel down ways. The path along Rose Cliff makes no pretence of being a
town way and no one need have any apprehension of the town being responsible
for any accident which may happen there
any more than upon any cart path in town.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

The columns under this title will be given to the people for a free discussion of any and all subjects, the subject matter being of local interest, and the responsibility for the opinions expressed.

Editor of Gazette and Transcript

I have noticed in your issue of July 24,
in the People's Column, an article relating to the development of the water front of our town.

Too much can hardly be said of the possibilities we have of improving and beautifying what is undoubtedly one of our most valuable assets, though we have been slow in recognizing it as such.

I agree with Mr. Barrett in regard to
the desirability of having good roads, as
a most important factor in this development. The time will probably come when
we shall have a boulevard along this
water front, but in the meantime, by no
means are all of the paths which are used
for travel down ways. The path along
Rose Cliff makes no pretence of being a
town way and no one need have any ap-
prehension of the town being responsible
for any accident which may happen there
any more than upon any cart path in town.

WEYMOUTH HISTORY.

An Abstract of Town Record, from its Earliest Settlement.
CHAPTER IXL

March 29, 1778.—Joshua Waterman
chosen town clerk, Abiah Whitman, treasurer. James Whitman, Capt. Tufits, Nathaniel Bayley, John Vinson & Asa
White chosen a committee to devise means to raise soldiers for the army.

"Voted to raise 612 for men guarding
the stores near Boston."

"Voted to tax the soldiers with Capt.
Ward's 4 months."

May 13th.—Brigadier Solomon Lovell
elected representative.

"Voted to raise 2000 for schools to be divided in the two precincts in proportion to what each shall pay."

"Voted to raise 2000 for support of the Poor and other town charges."

"The banking system of the early days
was an uncertain factor and the present generation know but little of the old system of state banks etc.—We find here this record."

"Voted that the constables do the best they can not to take counterfeit money
but if any fall into their hands or the hands of the treasurer it be remitted."

Constables were then collectors of taxes and other town dues.

"Voted that Dr. Tufits be allowed to set up a hospital for inoculating for the Small Pox if he please at a convenient place."

May 25th.—Special Town Meeting.

"Voted to raise 1500 for the purpose of paying men to be sent to General Washington and to other places."

"Voted that Ephraim Weston & Samuel White be a committee to go out of town to hire men for the Continental army and that they be allowed to pay every man that shall be so hired to join Genl. Washington for the term of nine months, the amount of 1000 or to agree with them at 100 per month, and to pay them in Beef
and Pork, Indian Corn & Rye, Sheep's Wool & Flax & Cord Wood at the price
those articles were at when the war began."

The hard winter of 78 and 79 was now approaching and things were looking dark for Washington and his army, hence a call for more men and more money, and a special town meeting was called for Nov.
13th, when it was voted to raise 7000 and the treasurer give his note and the town's security for the same for raising the quota
and defraying the expense.

At the March meeting in 1779 there was but little change in the long list of town
officers and committees.

There was however one new feature.

For more than 150 years the town had cared for its poor by assisting them in their homes or sending them out to the lowest bidder, but at this meeting a new move was made and we find the following:

"Voted to build a Work House, Isaac
French, David Blanchard, Capt. Asa White, Lieut. Ephraim Bates & Jacob Lund be a committee to ascertain the number of the Poor & to consult what sort of a house
will be proper to build and where to set it and count the cost and report at the adjournment."

It was voted to let out the rivers and landings placed and Back River was let out to Elihu Bates and Fore River to Capt. West each to collect 18d per cord for all cord wood shipped and 18d per ton
for hay and lumber of which sum 15d
should be turned in to the town's treasurer
and the balance to be paid to the committee on Work House.

Adjourned meeting, March 29th reported building a building 70 feet long and 16
feet wide one story high with a cellar under the two middle rooms of said house
fifteen feet wide and twenty feet long.

"Voted to let out the building to the lowest bidder for giving public notice of building material to be delivered on the Town's land between John Tirrell's and Thomas Webb's."

"Voted to raise by loan 400 £ for building said house."

"Voted that the treasurer destroy the counterfeit money on his hands."

"Voted to lengthen the Work House 5 or 6 feet to make 2 bed rooms."

May 18th 1779.—Brigadier Solomon
Lovell elected representative.

"Voted to raise 2000 for schools and divide the same between the two precincts
in proportion to what they pay."

"Voted to raise 2000 £ for support of
poor and other town charges."

July 22d, 1779.—Special town meeting
for that purpose.

James Humphrey Esq. was elected to represent the Town in a State Convention to be held at Cambridge in the county of Middlesex on the first day of Sept. next for the purpose of forming a constitution
of Government."

Another special town meeting was held on Oct. 15th to make further arrangements in regard to the poor and the work house and after voting to discontinue assistance to one widow and allow two others to remain where they were to remove all the others with their families to the work
house.

"Voted that John Tirrell and his son,
John, have the oversight of the Work
House."

"Voted that the selectmen make rules
and orders for the government of the Work House."

"Voted that the selectmen draw money out of the Town's Treasury to furnish the Poor with apparel to work with and material to work on."

In our list of Revolutionary Soldiers as published last week we should have said it was a list of those whose burial or graves have been located in Weymouth and are identified with markers of the sons of the American Revolution. In Gilbert Nash's history of Weymouth as published in 1885 he has a much larger list
and even at that, says the list of soldiers credited to Weymouth is very incomplete
as many of the men were hired from outside and the list is imperfect, we add here
the names of Mr. Nash's list which were not included in that published last week. Many of them of course not connected with Weymouth families either by birth or past.

OLD COLONY LEAGUE BASE BALL

Weymouth won 2-1
St. Francis Xavier lost 1-2
St. Margaret's won 2-1
St. Margaret's lost 1-2

The defeat of Weymouth by St. Margaret's knocked Weymouth out of first place for the first time this season. On Saturday next St. Margaret's will start for Stoughton and it is hoped that the team will do some hitting behind him for Tiff the former champion American League pitcher is now in the box for Stoughton and to Stoughton
last Saturday only through errors as Stoughton was unable to catch a view of him.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 1, 1908

At Garfield Park, Weymouth, the St.
Margaret's of Brockton defeated the Weymouths by the score of 5 to 1. The St.
Margaret's put up a good game both fielding and batting, while the Weymouths played a loose hitting game. A mistake on the part of Umpire Nichols in his ruling in the eighth inning with the bases filled, spoiled the Weymouths chance to win the game.

The features of the game was the batting of Courtney and McMahon and the fielding of LeFavor for the St. Margaret's.
For the Weymouths the batting of Drake.

ON THE FARM.

Have you culled out all the unprofitable birds? If not, do it at once and give the others a chance.

Bye, if you now, will grow, and as it is hardy, will furnish early green food for the grass makes its appearance in the spring.

In Holland they rotate the fertilizers as well as the crops. Each crop has its particular cover. Perhaps that is why they farm successfully on land worth $1,000 per acre.

Recent spraying for the elm leaf beetle is also regarded as a cause of the death of certain birds. In one village, where the elms were sprayed, the vireos, robins and orioles are said to have stopped singing immediately and were not seen afterward, but five were picked up dead in the street.

Now, one of the difficulties to be overcome in long, dry summers is drought, hence the need of cultivation to prevent its deleterious effect. Cultivation should be kept up as long as the drought and heat lasts or the weeds grow.

If we quit cultivation early a luxuriant growth of weeds spring up, which take up and evaporate the moisture, leaving the ground hard and dry.

Three times a day, in hot summer weather, probably pulling on a dead strain all the time, is not often enough for the work horse to be watered. The average man finds it necessary, under such conditions, to drink much of the water. The man who works the horse ought to make provision for watering the animal as often as he waters himself.

It is claimed that a cow needs eight gallons of water a day, and will consume that much if it is within reach. Milk is composed of about 87 per cent water. Cows confined to pastures in which there is no running water and the cows are watered morning and night, it would necessitate that a cow would have to drink four gallons at a time in order to be supplied. As the cow does not know that she must drink water, she will not naturally use less and reduce her milk supply accordingly.

Although cultivation is necessary and will increase your crops, no matter how you cultivate, or how you labor, it should be remembered that the plant food in the soil is the vital element of crop production. The crop removes this element, but by applying manure it is put back again. Manure not only enriches the soil with the elements of fertility, but also renders the stored plant food of the soil more available, improves the chemical conditions, makes the soil warmer and enables it to retain more moisture and to draw it up from below.

"The feeding value of alfalfa compared with other crops is enough," Secretary Ellis says, "to commend it to a greater use among farmers and live stock men, but there is another and perhaps more important reason for growing it—that is, its value as a soil improver. In any system of farming a legume, such as clover, cowpeas and alfalfa, must be grown. In Missouri, very fortunately, we can successfully grow all of these. The advantage of growing alfalfa over cowpeas and red clover is that when once seeded alfalfa will stand for a number of years, whereas cowpeas must be seeded each year, and red clover at least every two years and furthermore, alfalfa will produce a greater yield per acre and hay of somewhat better quality."

The up-to-date farmer pays his debts. Not the least important of these is the one he owes to the soil. He knows that each crop which the soil yields takes from it something of its fertility and that unless this fertility is returned to the soil it can never yield another crop. So he is very careful year by year to pay back to his land that fertility which the crop has taken from it. He knows many ways of doing this, and the one which he will adopt will depend upon the neighborhood. He knows that he can run a dairy, and when he sells a ton of butter, worth perhaps $50, it will improve his farm 400 pounds of straw worth about a dollar.

The small worms which often eat the roots of your corn are the larvae of the corn root worm. The eggs are laid in the fall, and in the soil all winter, ready to hatch at the same time that the corn sprouts, and the little, maggot-like larvae at once begin to feed upon the small roots, and at length burrow in the larger roots, doing much damage to the crop. They change into beetles in July, and may therefore be found on the silk or on the tassels. The stalks often fall over as the result of the work of the worms weakening the roots. The only effective remedy known is the preventive one of not planting corn on ground which was cropped with corn the previous year. It is believed that either rye, wheat or barley will rid the land of the corn root worm.

HOUSE WORK

Thousands of American women in our homes are daily sacrificing their lives to duty.

In order to keep the home neat and pretty, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo. A female weakness or displacement is often brought on from bad to worse, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden.

It is to these faithful women that LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND comes as a boon and a blessing, as it did to Mrs. F. Ellsworth of Mayville, N. Y., and to Mrs. W. F. Boyd of Beaver Falls, Pa., who say:

"I was not able to do my own work, owing to the female trouble from which I suffered. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me wonderfully, and I am so well that I can do as big a day's work as I ever did. I wish every sick woman would try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.
For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

GATHERED UP.

A wise man said: "Don't have a wish-bone where your backbone ought to be."

Brave actions never want a trumpet. Evil counsel is swift in its march. Those who know the road best sometimes lose their way.

The man who sighs for the bygone day When a bare foot boy he ran, Is the same old boy who used to say: "Gee, I wish I was a man!"

Be a booster. The knocker is usually the man who waits for something to turn up or tries to get something for nothing.

Miss Visitor—Do you always knead bread when you make it?
Mrs. Yapp—We wouldn't make it if we didn't eat it.

Mother (crossly)—Tommy, haven't I told you must not talk when I am talking?
Tommy—But, mama, you won't let me stay after you go to bed—Sketch.

A boy always brags of what he will do when he's a man.
The Japanese do not like to be called Japs. A noted diplomat was traveling from Tokyo to Yokohama when an American in the car leaned across and said, "Say, what 'ese are you, Chinese or Japs?"

Quick as a flash came in excellent English: "May I inquire what 'key' are you Yankee or monkey?"

NO DEADHEADS.
Mandy was a young colored girl fresh from the cotton fields of the south. One afternoon she came to her northern mistress and handed her a visiting card. "The lady who 'gives me this in the palm," she explained, "is a handsome lady on de do'stop."

"Gracious, Mandy," exclaimed the mistress, "why didn't you ask both of them to come in?"

"Kase, m'am," grinned the girl, "de one on de do'stop done forgot her ticket."

THE LAND OF THE FREE.
"There's eight nations represented in this ward of ours," said Mr. Holloran to his wife on his return from a political meeting. He began to count them off on his fingers:

"There's Irish, French, Ectyalians, Poles, Germans, Russians, Greeks an'—"
Mr. Holloran stopped and began again: "There's Irish, French, Ectyalians, Poles, Germans, Russians, Greeks—an' an' I queer I disremember the other wan? There's Irish, French—"

"Maybe 'twas Americans," suggested Mrs. Holloran.

"Sure, that's it," said her husband. "I couldn't think."

NOT HIMSELF.
Farmer (to medical man)—If you get out my way this doctor, I wish you'd stop and see my wife. I think she ain't feelin' well. Doctor—What makes you think so? Farmer—Well, this mornin' after she had milked the cows, an' fed the pigs, an' got breakfast for the men, an' washed the dishes, an' built a fire under
